Student Council

Student Councils are designed to provide a learning experience to those students who wish to become involved. They learn not only about governmental procedures, student finances, and apathy; but also, they get an idea of how better communications and understanding will be important in solving today's problems.

Vice-president Peter Kincart addresses Student Council from the podium.

Interclub Council

Coordination, evaluation, cooperation: three important words when InterClub Council comes to mind. ICC is responsible for coordinating the activities of all clubs and scheduling all dances. ICC evaluates the bands that play here and keeps a comprehensive record, made to be used by other schools in our area. The activity director, a new Student Body office, becomes president of ICC. This brought about one very important improvement, a high degree of cooperation with Student Council.

Kaleidoscope

Combining talent into a true kaleidoscope of colorful thoughts that are constantly searching, changing, and growing is the purpose of Kaleidoscope. Kaleidoscope is West Linn's annual literary magazine. It is composed of original poems, essays, stories and art-work. Students submit their creation to the Kaleidoscope staff, advised by Mrs. Herr, Mrs. Swank and Mrs. Schuberg.

"I feel that this year's work on the Amplifier was not only a profitable experience in journalism, but also provided much enjoyment and personal satisfaction. Through their work on the paper, the staff learned the value of teamwork," stated Kelly Pyrch, 1969-1970 editor of the Amplifier.

The staff cleaned up debts totaling $120.00. They hope they gave the student body what they were looking for as far as a paper is concerned.

Senior Business

Senior Business Club consists of all Senior girls who have taken business classes. Although the membership has declined, the group still keeps up its activities. These include: conducting the Van Duyn candy sale as a money-making project, putting out the student directory, and sponsoring the annual "Miss Charity" canned food drive in which the classes compete in selecting "Miss Charity" to reign over the dance that night.

As most other clubs this year, Ski Club experienced a new growth in its membership. More people wanted to experience personally the "turned on" feeling of schussing down a hill at zero degree temperatures. They soon got over their initial fear on the slopes of Multapor and now can hardly wait for next year.

Forensics

1970 brought with it a speech team we all should be proud of. Seven students from West Linn qualified for the state tournament. West Linn ranked ninth in the number of students participating in the meet, out of eighty-four other schools. From those taking part, Bill Alsdorf was a finalist in Extemporaneous Speaking and Ken Klawitter was a finalist in After-Dinner Speaking. Debbie Lohman placed third place in Serious Interpretive Reading. Rawn Stone and Scott Lough tied for eighth place in Oxford Debate.

FTA

This year F.T.A. has grown considerably in size bringing in many new active members. In addition to their other activities which include their licorice sale to make money for the F.T.A. scholarship fund, and visiting the grade schools in the surrounding area to observe the classes, they sponsored for the first time, Teacher Appreciation Week, at the end of which the students replace the teachers and faculty for a day.

F.T.A. officers: Deidre Ericksen, historian; Chris Replogle, treasurer; Barbara Kerr, president; Linda Horvath, secretary; Sandy Crawford, vice-president.

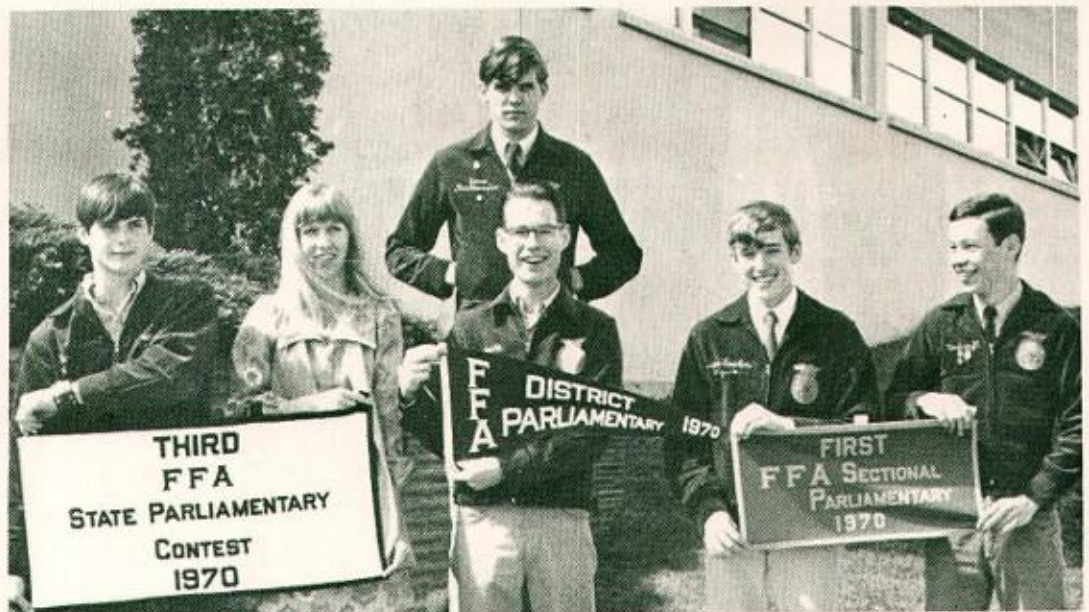

Eric Munson takes Mr. Zacur's place on Teacher Turn-Around Day.

F.F.A.

This has been a successful year for FFA. Their parliamentary procedures team placed second in the district, first in the sectional and third in the state. Dave Koellermeier was the recipient of such honors as: State winner of Home Improvement, 1970 Star Farmer of Oregon, and a State Farmer's Degree.

Officers: Ken Nodurft, vice-president; Dan Fowler, reporter; Al Nodurft, secretary; Scot Klusman, treasurer; Sam Moser, sentinel; Dave Koellermeier, president.

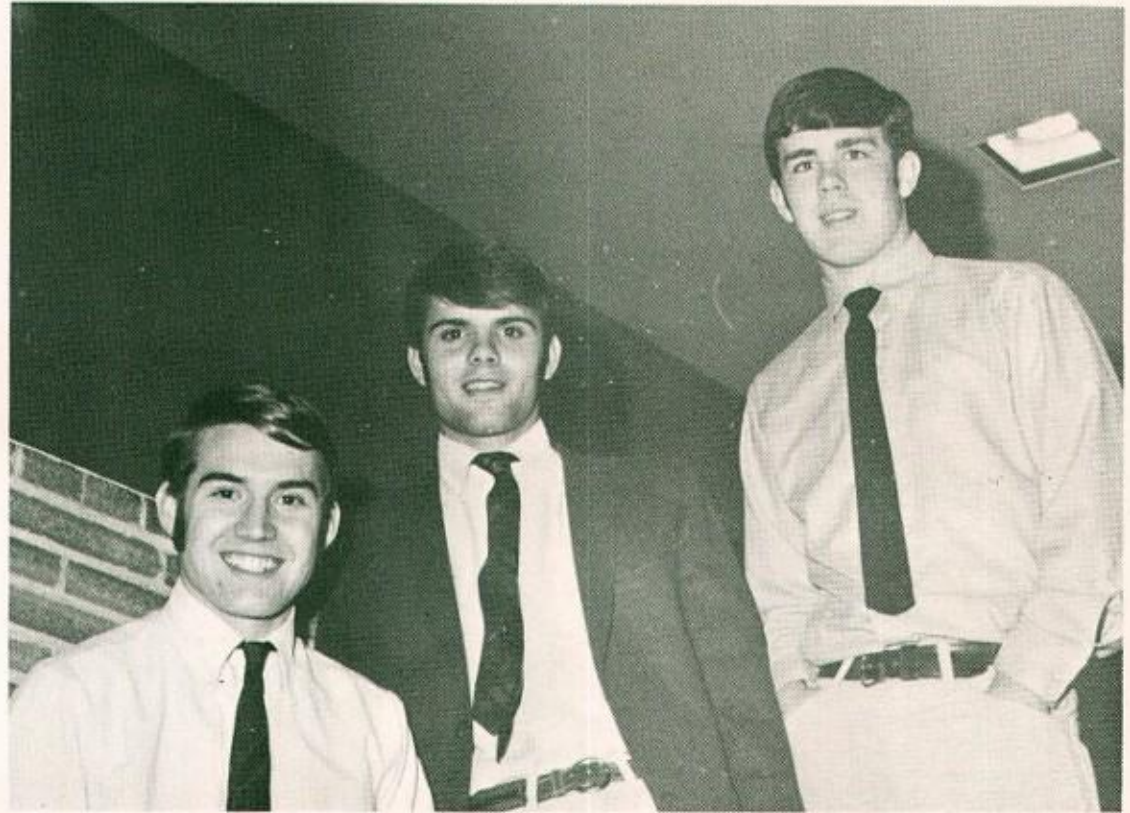

Parliamentary team: Doug Vincent, Judy Bruck, Scot Klusman, Dan Fowler, Ken Nodurft, Dave Koellermeier.

The Sirs is a club for boys only. Being in the Sirs has always been an honor, but being in the Sirs does not mean "all fun". This year's Sirs found themselves left with money problems that had never been solved the year before. They still managed to get into the Christmas spirit, though, by donating two baskets of food for the needy families of the community. Selling concessions at games was another Sirs' project. Hopefully, the Sirs will continue to earn money and help those who need help.

The Debutants provide half-time entertainment.

Imagine spending your free time by dancing at football and basketball half-times, serving at banquets, and practicing kicks and splits . . . putting on a dance featuring the Portland Zoo, having a baked-goods sale at the Oregon City shopping center, or selling cupcakes here at school.

If you can imagine all that, you can imagine the Debutants. The Debs are the hard-working, high-kicking girls who devote their time and energy to representing West Linn. There are less than two dozen girls this year, but all have worked hard to preserve the Debs.

Of course, participating in Debs meant you had demonstrated your ability and versatility. Then, put them into good use by dancing in the annual May Day dance, and by participating in the many activities that make a full-fledged Debutant.

Row 1: K. Misseldine, historian, L. Paige, L. Hoss, J. Buckiewicz, M. Bare. Row 2: M. McMahon, D. Kiou, H. Marcus, M. Clarkson, Y. Smith, A. Kemmer, secretary-treasurer. Row 3: D. Popma, C. Frost, B. This year, the Thespians got off to a rather late start, due to the fact they were without a drama instructor. But soon after the first semester, they were introduced to Mr. McDade and they immediately began to bloom, trying hard to make up for lost time. In March they put out the first Thespian production of the year, "You Can't Take It With You." Then were the annual one-act plays, in which each class won an award. Sophomores received the award for the best play, "Servants of the People." Senior Vicki Eggers and freshman Steward Paige were named best actress and actor, while the junior class had the best turnout. In May, the Thespians sponsored the play, "A Flea in Her Ear."

Eric Munson performs in the seniors' one-act play.

Spirit can't lurk under the bleachers and mysteriously emerge when students open their mouths. Spirit has got to be the yelling, screaming anticipation at a pep assembly . . . the stand-up-and-yell at a game . . . the last assembly when the seniors stand on the gym floor with the rally to sing the Alma Mater. Spirit may seem dwarfed by an initial silence, but pride and excitement just naturally seem to swell . . . Someone has to amplify the purr of noise into the roar of the lion, and nobody seems to do it better than our rally. (applause)

W. L. lines up opposite Grizzlies.

There are a lot of bad things that could be said about our football season. We lost seven games compared to only one win and one tie, but season records need not tell the entire story. It was a year when words like spirit, determination, and particularly courage were a part of our vocabulary.

Two outstanding games were those against Dallas and Oregon City. West Linn repeatedly threatened the high-ranked Dallas team at their goal line but the final score read 20-6 in favor of the Dragons. Oregon City traveled here to deal out one of the biggest heartbreakers of the season. The Lions led throughout the game until the final seconds when a surprise play by the Pioneers resulted in the go-ahead touchdown.

Larry Laxson and Glenn Harris received the Red Shirt award and a vote of thanks from the team for their outstanding determination.

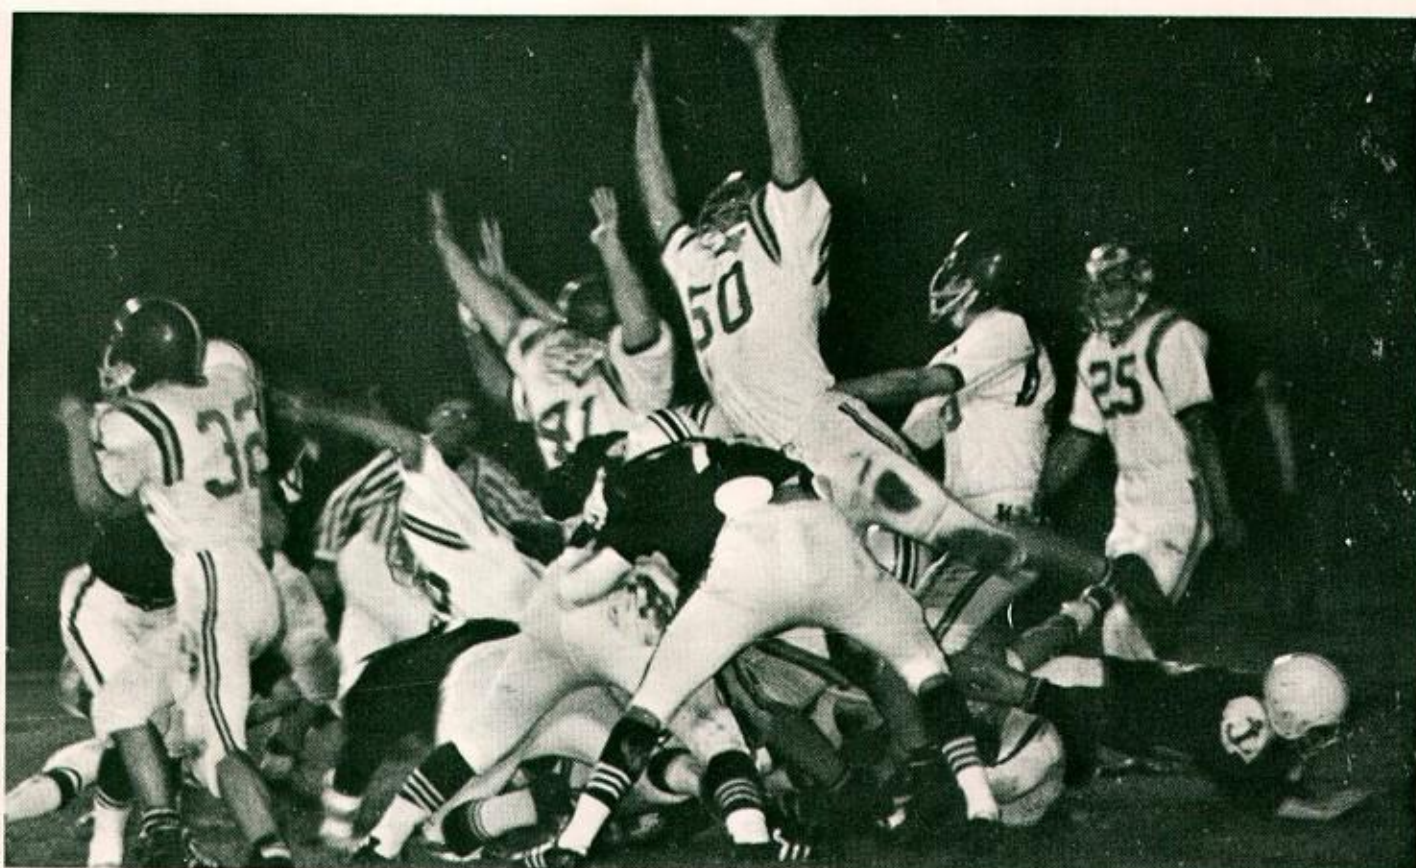

Two offensive and defensive backs, Pat and Paul Boettcher, were lost to injuries. With the experience gained from the 1969 season, the Varsity Squad in 1970 should be very promising as almost all the boys will have had varsity experience.

Last year's Cross Country team had a very successful season, losing only to Tigard and Lake Oswego. Most of that same team returned and had an even more prosperous year, except for the fact that they again lost only to Tigard and Lake Oswego. During the 1969 season, runners such as Steve Robinson, Bob Dichtel, and Ralph Boeckman led the way to each victory. At the District Cross Country Meet, our boys placed third enabling them to compete in the Regional Meet against the finest teams in the state. Some very good performances were turned in to cap off a very successful year.

The feeling of spirit never left our ambitious swim team girls all during their long, hard days of practice. Head Coach Elaine Mackey coached our girls to two victories.

Carol Lystell did well in the district swim meet. She finished third in the free-style. Dawn Smith was one of our strongest swimmers. She received a first in the breast stroke and a second in the free-style during the competition at the district swim meet. Dawn went to state.

This season West Linn ranked as the No. 1 defense team in the state. The Lions played some outstanding games. One was the match with Oregon City. Rivalry rang out; when the final seconds elapsed WL was ahead 42-37. A great game was our triumphant victory over the Lakers. WL led LO throughout the game, but barely maintained their lead to pull a 43-42 win. The Lions rallied into the second half of league play with state on their mind. Against Newberg we shot 91% on the foul line; we held St. Helens without a fourth-quarter point, and beat OC again by 27 points. Although failing in their attempt to reach the state tournament, the Lions provided their fans with intense excitement and an overall mark of 11-11.

The Freshman A squad held their own to maintain an eight win, eight loss record. The B squad seemed to do the best of all our teams bringing home an 11 win, 3 loss record. With back up squads such as this our Varsity will surely benefit.

Skiing: The Newest Sport

Here lately, when "individuality" is a key word in any activity, it is not surprising that skiing and ski-racing are experiencing great popularity. While it is true that skiing requires team participation, that members of the ski team become real friends and meet hundreds of racers from high schools all over Oregon, still, each skier must be motivated to win; the actual race depends solely upon him. There is excitement in preparing all year for the races, then giving your all in a few quick seconds. The feeling of accomplishment and individuality make skiing an exhilarating challenge.

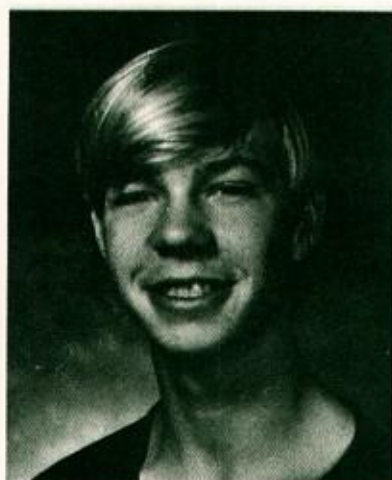

Determination is a must.

Wrestling is a close sport, a tense sport. The expressions of the boys are vivid, their glistening bodies, tight with the momentum to win.

Long, strenuous practices help to keep the wrestlers in shape for matches, but inevitably a couple boys have to do without food for a day or two before weigh-ins to make the right weight. It's a sport that points out true athletes.

Our wrestlers fought hard and they all did well. Dan Bradley lost only one match, and that was to a Forest Grove matman. The Lions came out 4 wins, 5 losses and a seventh place at district. Dan came out on top and traveled to state for West Linn. Retiring senior matmen are Pete Kincart, Monte Zacher, Dan Bradley and Alan Hull. Tom Mickelsen holds the records for the 100 and 220 yard races; Mike Pike holds the 440 yard record and was a member of the mile relay team; Kent Molander is the holder of the javelin record; Steve Robinson was an outstanding distance runner of the past three years; and Dave Koellermeier was our leading high jumper, long jumper, and hurdler. Also, seniors Brian Bell, Bob Dichtel, and Ralph Boeckman will be greatly missed next year. The Lions in league meets had an overall mark of 7-4.

Girls Track Team Sends Two to State Meet

Out of 35 active girls in track, Vicki Asche, Chris Brainerd, Judy Endres, Bev Geigle, Carol Lytsell, Patty Miller, Sylvia Paige, Dawn Smith, Sue Stubbs and Jan Schumaker received their letter. Two girls went to state, Chris Brainerd in javelin and Sue Stubbs for the 440 yard run. To place for state trials at the TYV District meet, Chris threw the spear 94'9". Sue scored more points for the team throughout the season than any other girl. At District, she ran a 65.6 in the 440 to take first place. Although the young team won only one meet, their match against Oregon City, the girls track team has gone to state all four years of their existence. With such strong young teammates such as Sue and Carol, we can surely look forward to more wins and more state tournaments.

For forty-nine years, West Linn has played rival Oregon City. The game is a tradition when spirits are high and hopes of a victory even higher. The Kick-Off Breakfast started the activities early as speeches and yells reflected the day ahead. The afternoon found the pep assemblies and the introduction of our court to the acclaim of their student body. Game time finally arrived and the action turned to the West Linn football field. The Lions were 0-6 for the season but there was something different about this game. The gold-clad players were a different team and for three quarters were clearly in charge. But a last ditch effort by Oregon City in the final seconds pulled out a Pioneer win. Queen Louise reigned over the Homecoming dance which in spite of the game defeat proved to be a great success. It was a Homecoming that will stay a memory for the years to come.

Victory played an important part as West Linn celebrated Basketball Homecoming except that this year the Lions traveled to O.C. to celebrate it.

It all started that morning at the pep assembly. The rally even had a special Valentines Day present for the varsity Lions. Each of the Homecoming princesses were introduced to the classes.

That evening, the West Linn fans moved across the river and up on the hill to visit O.C.'s new gym. There, we soundly took over the court and whipped them 68-41.

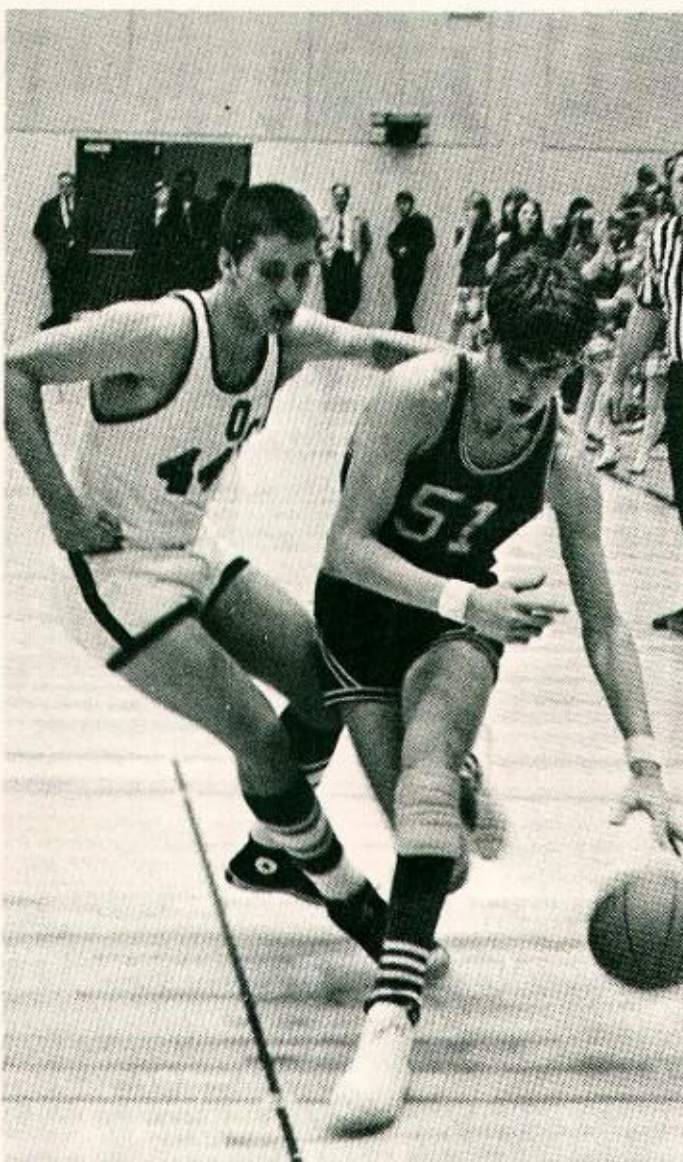

It was a happy bunch of rooters who traveled back across the bridge for the dance at our high school. Queen Adriana Montoya reigned over the nights festivities as the crowd danced to the sounds of the United Flight.

four candidates each for secretary, activity director and assistant treasurer all told their qualifications and what they could achieve if elected.

Out of all the hopefuls five officers were chosen. Elected for the 1970-71 school year were Jim Hastings, president; Ken Greger, vice-president; Jacquie Taylor, secretary; Scott Cramer, activity director; and Sue Belloni, assistant treasurer. Michele Clarkson will take over the position of treasurer after serving as this year's assistant treasurer.

You Can't Take It with You

"I'm afraid I wouldn't be a good wrestler."

"I couldn't find my dancing slippers."

As West Linn's first play production this year, the drama department did "You Can't Take It With You," a light-hearted play about life and living. Under the direction of the new dramatics teacher, Scott McDade, this show was delightful to both cast and audience.

The play itself is set 35 years ago. The show is about the Sycamore family, a wild, unconventional bunch of people, and the Kirby family, a staunch upper-class people who have lost a sense of gaiety.

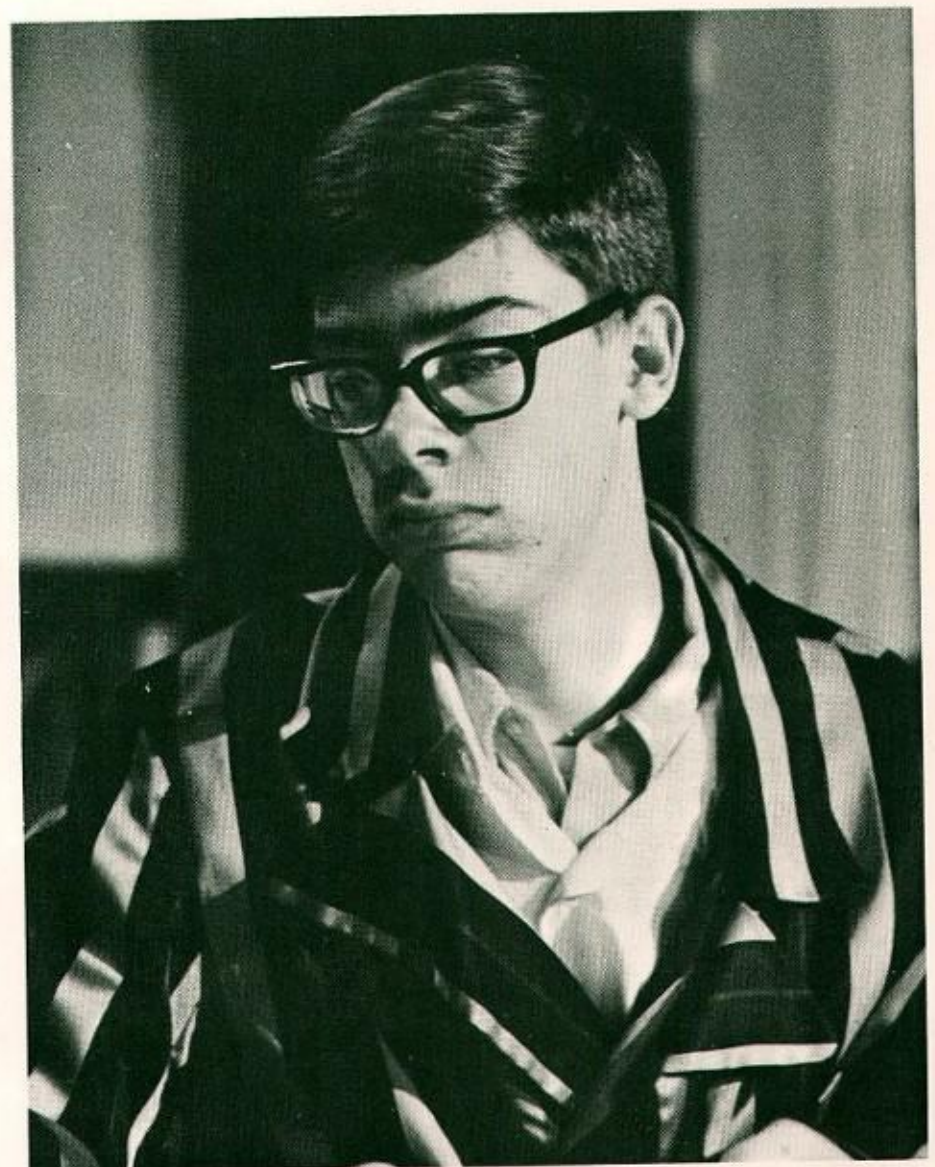

Throughout three acts of zany scenes, the Kirby's finally realize what they are missing, and join ranks with the Sycamores.

Mr. McDade proved his outstanding ability as a director with his first production here and it is one that West Linn Thespians will talk about for a long time.

"... Who had a remarkable feeling."

"You can't take it with you."

"A Flea In Her Ear" West Linn's second all school play, a wild, gay French farce written by George Feydeau was presented on May 14, 15, and 16. The plot centered around a French couple. The wife becomes suspicious of her husband, and with the help of her best friend, she set out to prove his guilt. The result was total confusion, mistaken identities, unaccountable disappearances and near catastrophies.

Chandebise reads love letter to de Histangua.

Albicco (Ken Gregor) makes his point known to the managers, Marge Bare and Stuart Paige.

May Day 1970

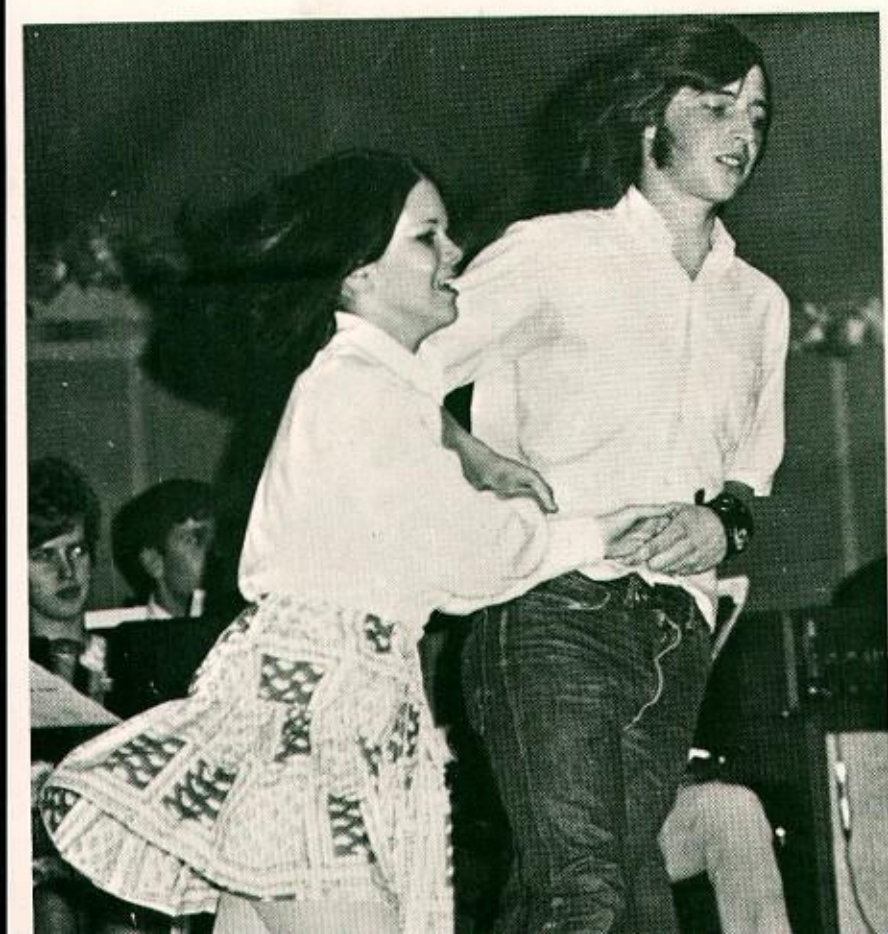

May Day is like a daisy. It starts out small in its early stages but grows quickly upward toward its peak. Suddenly it blooms and comes truly alive with color and life. May Day isn't just the first day of May, but starts weeks before with long hours of hard work, all building toward the climax.

The splendor and color of West Linn's blossom takes full form as the carefully planned routines are presented before the queen and her court. The traditional acts were all there: the Maypole, the square dancers, the gymnastics, the Debs, and the choir all took part again. Two new dances were presented by a group of West Linn's own daisies and the court also added a presentation of their own to the performance. And, like a daisy, our May Day gently closed as the night drew on with the promise of a fresh blossom next spring.

May Day 89

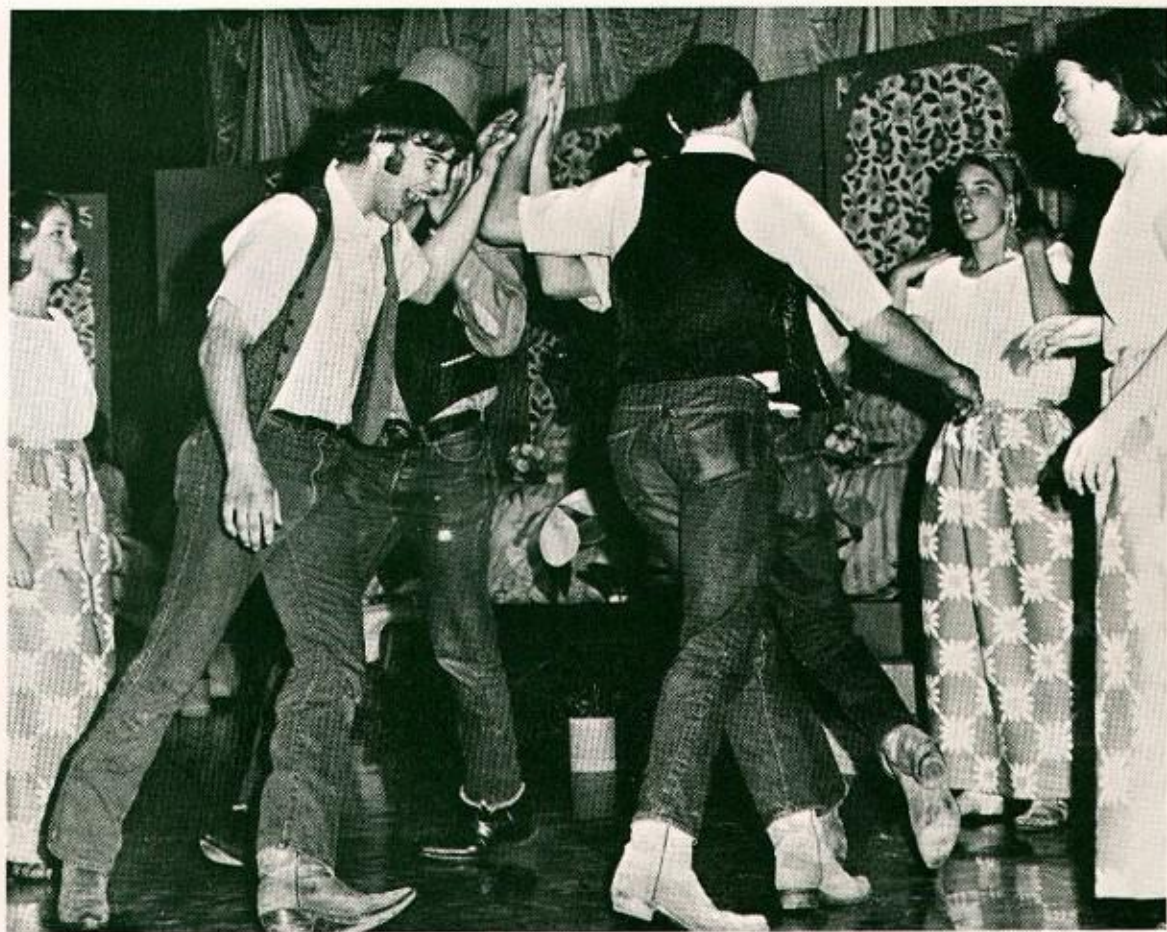

Maid of Honor Louise

Her long dark hair and deep brown eyes are characteristics which make Maid of Honor Louise Elliott a beautiful member of the court. Louise is also known for her leadership and scholastic merit. She serves as president of Senior Business Club and is an honor student. In the past, she was freshman class president, junior class secretary, senior Homecoming queen and a member of Debutantes.

Louise Elliott was escorted by Joe Walsh.

Steve Steigleder has the May Day spirit.

Theresa Nodurft was one of many skilled gymnasts.

Lori Dady escorted by Kerry Heisler.

Our own daisy, Mrs. Mackey.

Practicing under Kerry's watchful eye.

Princess Lori

Princess Lori, always an active participant in the class's activities, is a brunette with brown eyes. As a sophomore, she was a lovely representative to the Homecoming court. This year, Lori is a member of Ski Club, Future Homemakers, Senior Business Club and Debutantes. Lori plans to work for a year after graduation and eventually become a stewardess.

Princess Colleen, friendly and sincere, has represented her class in many ways. She is 5'3½", has light brown hair, a blue eye and a green eye. She was freshman class secretary and, as a junior, assistant student body treasurer. This year she was treasurer and a member of the Bash Court. Her other activities include membership in Forensics, four degrees of honor in speech and three years in Student Council. Colleen will attend Oregon State this fall.

Virginia Enderlin was escorted by Kelly Pyrch.

Princess Virginia

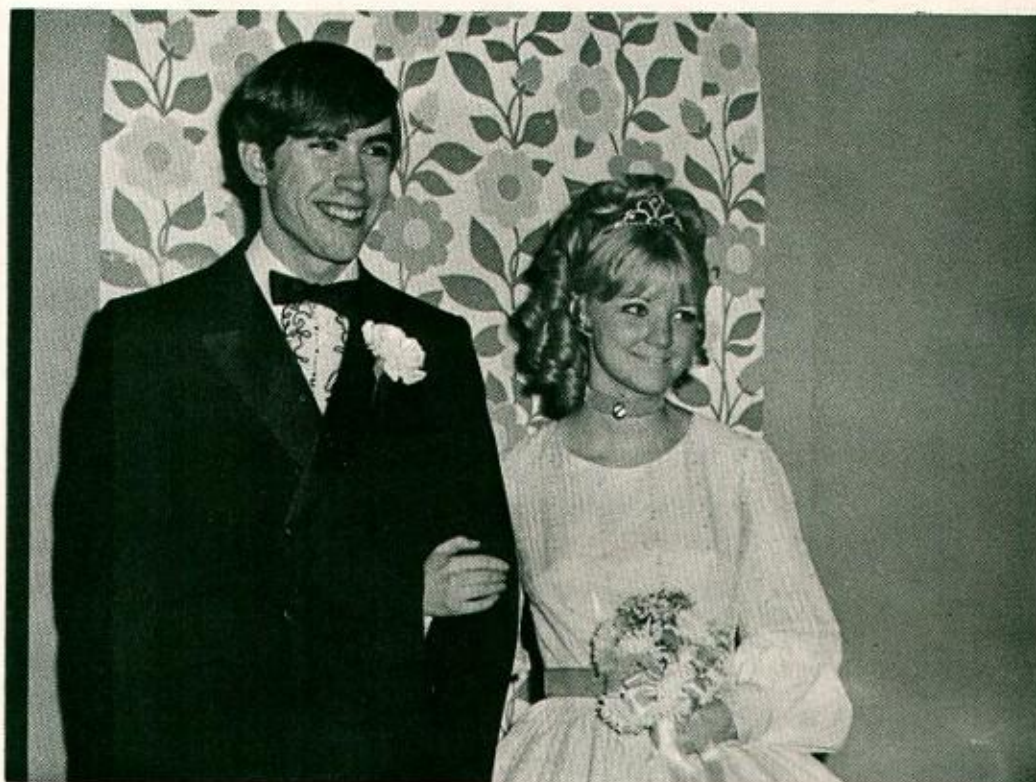

Rich Dippner performs with balance and strength on the parallel bars.

At the Queen's Ball, Raylene Losch and Chris Andrews compare notes.

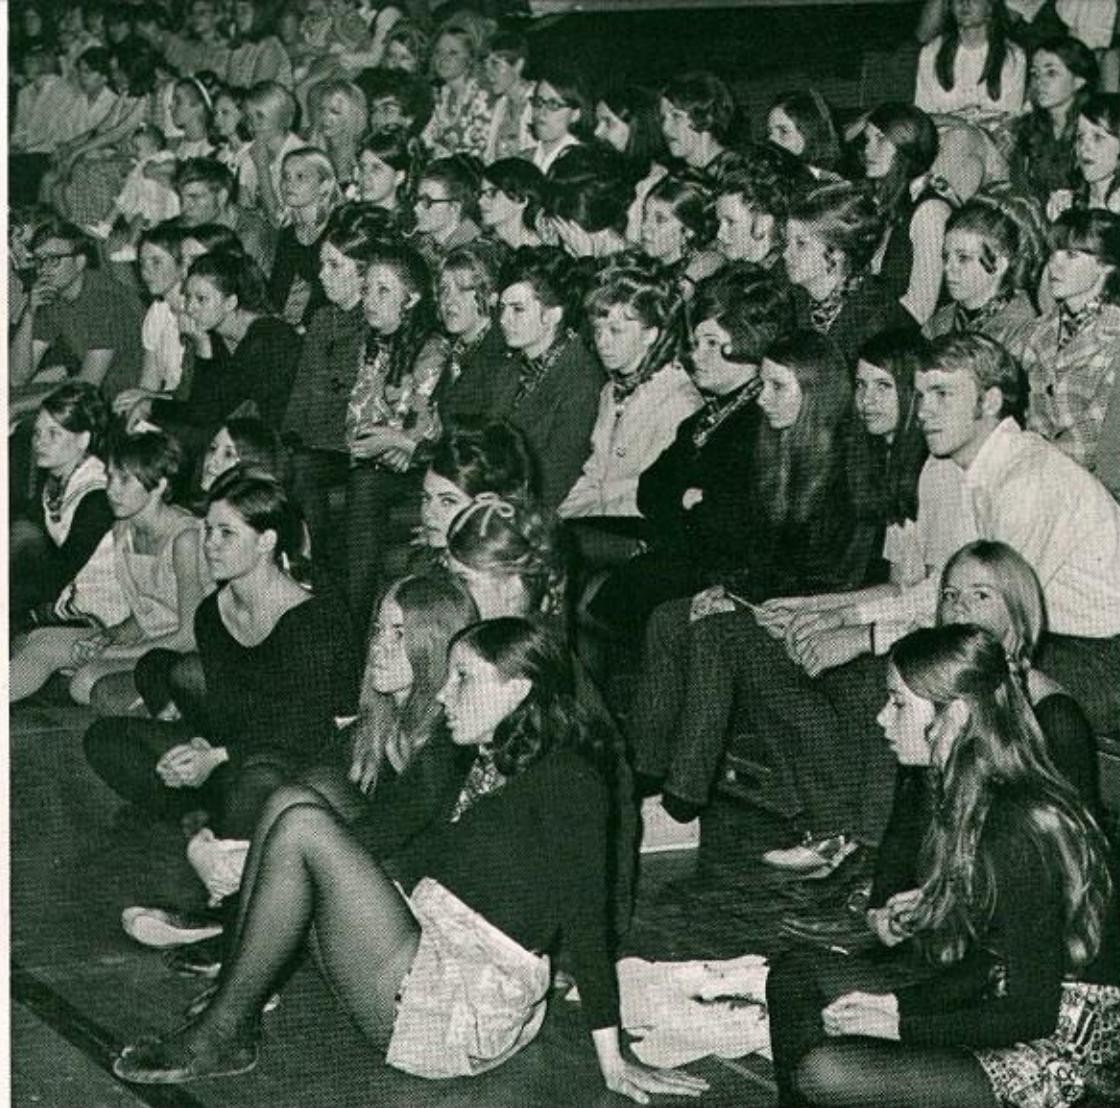

Princess Virginia Enderlin, a blonde with blue eyes is known for her friendly and witty personality. She is a petite 5'1" and was a member of both junior varsity and varsity rally. Virginia would like to attend Portland Community for two years to become a dental technician.

Jane Cross balances as Julie Reddaway braces.

Yvonne Smith shows her agile grace.

Participants make an enthralled audience.

Princess Cyndi

Radiant Princess Cyndi graced the court with her dark blonde hair and hazel eyes. She has been active throughout high school as a member of Donut Court, Art Club, French Club, Thespians, Ski Club, and Debutantes. Art class is a special favorite of Cyndi's. She will attend Portland Community College next year.

Cyndi Green escorted by Kent Molander.

Carla Hoy escorted by Mike Pike.

Princess Carla

Princess Carla, a class favorite, was chosen as the girl with the cutest smile by seniors and Girl of the Month for friendliest. She is a dark blonde with blue eyes. Carla this year was a member of varsity rally and Senior Business Club and has been active in Future Homemakers, ICC, Student Council and Debutantes. She also had the distinction of being named Homecoming Queen as a junior. Portland State University is her aim next fall.

Princess Kathy

The Queen made an impressive entrance.

Princess Kathy VanLaningham, a 5'3" blonde is a short but sweet addition to the court this year. Kathy was a peppy member of varsity rally, Ski Club, and Senior Business Club and a past member of Debutantes. Kathy would like to become a dental assistant and will attend Portland Community College after graduation.

Kathy VanLaningham escorted by Dave Koellermeier.

A "daisy dancer" presents Colleen with a flower.

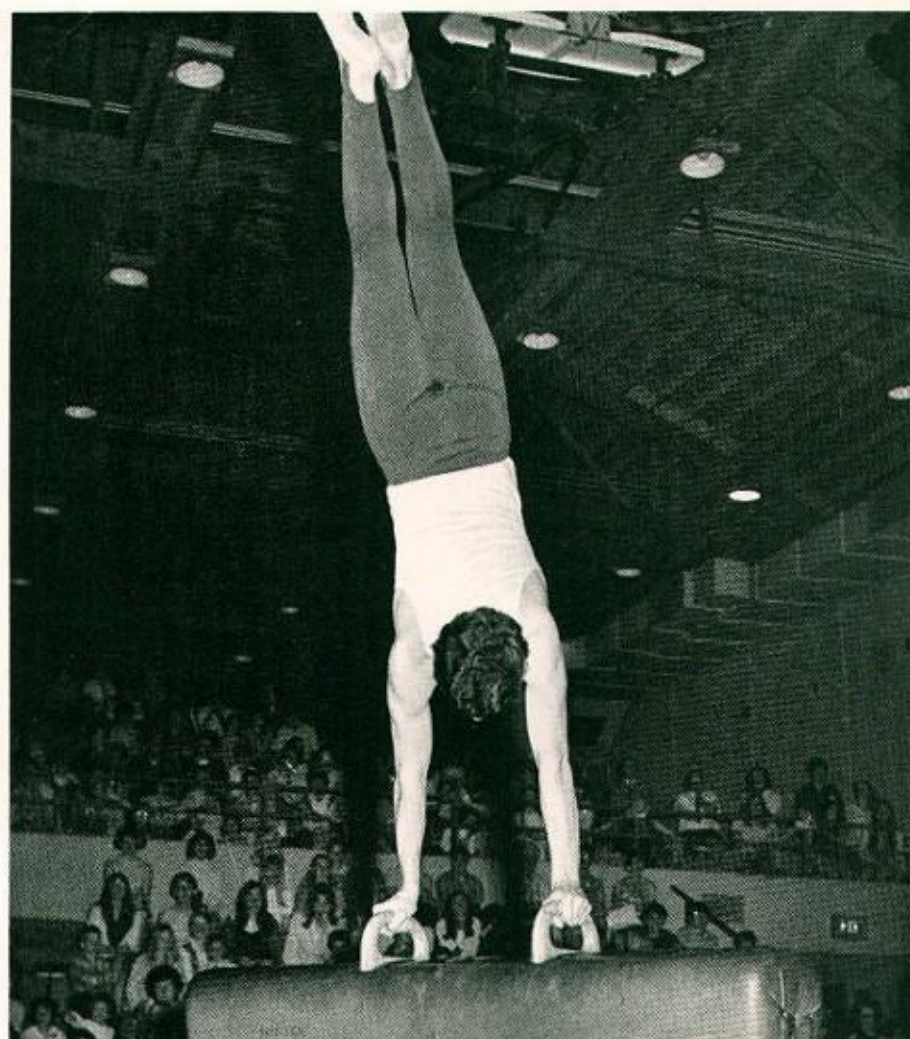

Princess Laree

Princess Laree has been an involved student and possesses a charming personality. Laree was freshman class Homecoming princess and a member of Thespians, Forensics, junior varsity and varsity rally.

Laree Wartena was escorted by Peter Kincart.

Mark Simpson balances on horse. Below: The court performs in a lovely folk dance.

May Day 97

May Day's chief organizer and coordinator for this year was Harry Green. Serving as manager is only one of many activities that busy Harry including being president of Modern Music Masters, band, and a member of all-state choir. Plans after graduation include attending Oregon State to major in mechanical engineering.

MAY DAY MANAGER HARRY GREEN.

Harry places the crown on Camille's head making her Queen of May.

Queen Camille truly has every qualification for a radiant queen. She is known throughout the student body for her spirit and ability to make friends. Camille stands at 5'7" with long brown hair and hazel eyes. After coming to West Linn her sophomore year, she immediately became involved in such activities as GAA, Student Council, president of FHA, and a member of varsity rally her junior and senior year. Camille was also selected by her classmates as friendliest and Girl of the Month for spirited. She plans to attend Pacific Lutheran this fall.

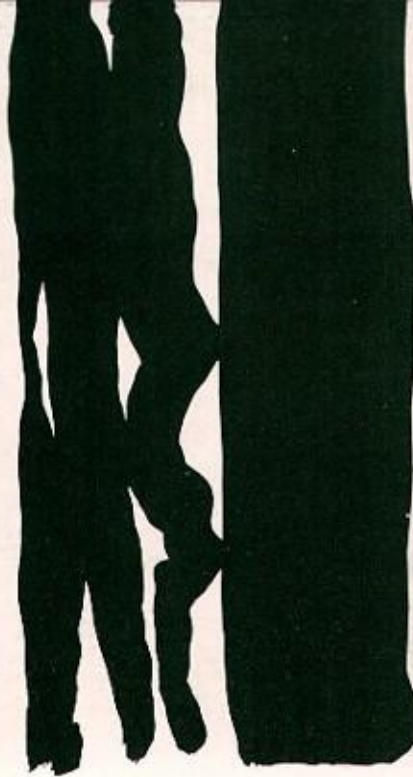

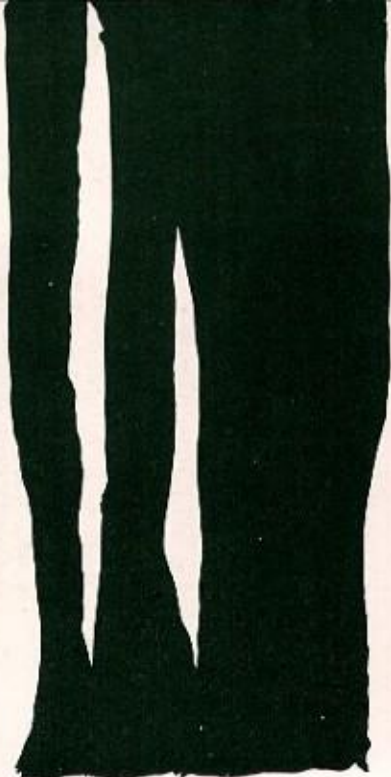

Camille Wegner was escorted by Mike Thomas.

Mr. Chester Tunnell, Superintendent.

The office is the headquarters of any school. And as in any headquarters, there is never a moment's rest. All day long the switchboard buzzes, phones ring, visitors traipse in and out, typewriters clack. Mr. Wyffel's visiting bench is occupied, a student waits for a band-aid, Mrs. McLarty helps someone at the window, Mr. Gettel has a line of students waiting at his door.

These are on the outside, where anybody can see. But miles of work go unpraised, unnoticed, but get done. There are minuscule and monolithic tasks, schedules, and paper-work lying underneath all that is done.

Lots of people like to complain and beg for changes—and maybe someday the changes will come with the inefficiency of computers replacing the inefficiency of all the different people who make an office work.

Faculty

Not everybody admits to liking all his teachers. But they've got to be good for something, or they wouldn't be around. If you were to stop and think about it, a teacher has a million duties: advising, counselling, patrolling, ticket-taking, chaperoning, door-guarding and just plain teaching. Teachers are human beings, especially when you realize that they have also found time to raise families, participate in community affairs, and maintain their private hobbies . . . after they get out of school. Teachers spend over a thousand hours a year "just plain teaching". That doesn't include all the after-school hours and the paper-correcting. Teaching is not always a rewarding job . . . but there's something we must not know about, or why would the teachers still be teaching? Kids always love to gripe about how much good time they waste by going to school, but think about this: long after you're out of high school, the teachers will still be here.

I'd like to thank all the people who helped me with their friendliness to make West Linn my second home. I'll never forget the warm welcome by the student body and the faculty members, and I will remember the new and strange things for me at West Linn; the school spirit, pep assemblies, ball games, student council, and student body office elections. This school year will be a lasting experience for me.

Kathy gets engrossed in an important but friendly conversation.

Austria is a small, neutral country that has reached, politically, a good, even, balanced point of power and development. It looks to America for almost everything. It depends on us for excitement, news, inventions, inspirations, you name it. America leads the world, whether it wants to or not. It's too late to pull back into a shell.

Student Body Officers

Holly Marcus, Student Body Secretary, smiles for the photographer.

"Our major goal this past year was to try and get students more involved in the school and what it has to offer. To some extent we have failed to reach our goal . . . With this thought in mind we hope that the coming changes within our school will give the students the incentive to unite, strive, and reach their future goals. We hope that whatever little accomplishments we have gained will in some way help the students in the future. To the Students of W.L.H.S. we extend our thanks and gratitude for their cooperation and support."

Every year brings an influx of new, talented Freshmen to West Linn and this year was certainly no exception. They started the year with a loss in the Bagrush but that too is now unusual. After a week of shoe shining, they settled down to the job of adjusting to the largest school most have attended. Fresh-

In their second year of high school, the Sophomores kept the momentum that had begun the previous year. This year, though, the tables were turned as the Sophomores found themselves with clean shoes instead of shining shoes following the bagrush.

Football Homecoming, sponsored by the class, was a large success. Outstanding organization made it an event to be enjoyed by all. Princess Jana Gaynor represented her class on the court.

Adriana Montoya, Sophomore, was chosen Basketball Homecoming Queen.

Participation was a key factor as J.V. sports found large turnouts of Sophomores. A few even had the distinction of playing on Varsity teams.

The Sophomores played an important role in the success of the school year and in the remaining two, should continue to leave their special impression on West Linn High School.

This year's Junior class demonstrated a "go-go-go" type attitude, always ready and willing to get involved in projects it sponsored. What projects? At Christmas, they worked with the Clackamas County Juvenile Court, stuffing stockings for the court's wards, and for the migratory workers in Canby. Then came an exciting, rip-roaring and sometimes messy pie-eating contest.

Dave Franzwa, Clay Frost and Dave Kruse are three of the boys that gave the Junior class character.

They also sponsored cake sales and movies. Come February the 14th, the Juniors were in charge of the Val-o-grams. Last came the Queen's Ball, a Junior tradition.

The class of "71" is a determined bunch of people; people who take great pride in their work and rightfully so.

Wake up Seniors—
It's your turn to graduate! It dawned slowly on most that this was their last year of high school yet the class seemed to come alive with accelerated activity that will leave their final impression on West Linn. Sports, rally, Maycourt, plays, graduation; all were activities that had a special meaning for the many Seniors involved.

Activity was not limited to the school, however, and many individuals earned outstanding honors and recognition on state and national levels. Let us remember, though, the entire class and the achievements it made in education and growth. This year's class is particularly aware of the many crises in pollution, poverty, Vietnam, and international conflict that face their generation. They will step from high school to local involvement with a vote and a voice, a right to be heard.

These honor students are those who have excelled during four years here. They must have averaged five classes a year and taken at least one class denoted as an honor class. There is a great pride in achievement of this goal; it denotes an education attained through hard work and devotion. They are the leaders in the race by our generation to be recognized as responsible individuals with something to contribute to society.

Special recognition is due Nancy Hammond, Valedictorian, who was a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

LIONS FIGHT

*We chose with careful eye,
The things to remember this school year by.*

Reflections

Fifteen years ago, West Linn was a small suburban high school of approximately 450 students. As years advanced, enrollment increased until we reached approximately 1,200 students, which included all of the Gladstone students. The only building we had was the old building, with the old gym. In 1956 the new addition was opened, which gave us a new gym, and provided us with eight new classrooms and office space; the old gym was remodeled for wood shop purposes. Today, as everyone knows, we have a new library, new home economics and art departments, new shops, and many additional classrooms.

In reflecting upon curriculum, the basic offerings were for the most part college preparatory offerings. Today, West Linn offers over 150 different subjects, with elective options in English, mathematics and science, and a very fine vocational program.

Athletically, we started with only varsity competition. This has grown now to include junior varsity and a double freshman program. We have also added gymnastics, skiing, golf, girls' swimming, and girls' track, which makes a fairly comprehensive athletic program.

Fifteen years ago, the student body followed pretty much the program or the direction of the teachers and the administration, but now they are involved in Parent-Student-Teacher Committees; they are involved in helping shape their own destinies, and becoming truly involved in an educational program. These and many others are the reflections and memories of the principal.

—Charles P. Zacur

Mr. Shearer, a counsellor, and Mrs. Lightowler, an algebra teacher, have also spent their last year at West Linn. They will retire after giving many years of service to the high school and its students.
